Initial thoughts

- Like mockup A the best
    - Could a mobile view be provided?
- Take out the ‘Sources’ button and just have the source linked in the footnotes
- Maybe change the hover on the buttons to something else?
    - The underline is nice, but could be that the text change color or something on hover
- Like the overall layout, but maybe there is like a full bar with her image or something and a title, and then under is information and the explore more
- Color - like the gold and the tan, but instead of green, maybe a dark purple
- A footnote should be added at the bottom with all the other page links
- Maybe the quote at the bottom is something she said
- And the hover on the ‘Explore Her Story’ could be something like ‘follow her light’ or something
- Could more be added to the page so that if people are scrolling, they can then navigate as they read instead of having to scroll back to the top?
